CENTRALMA

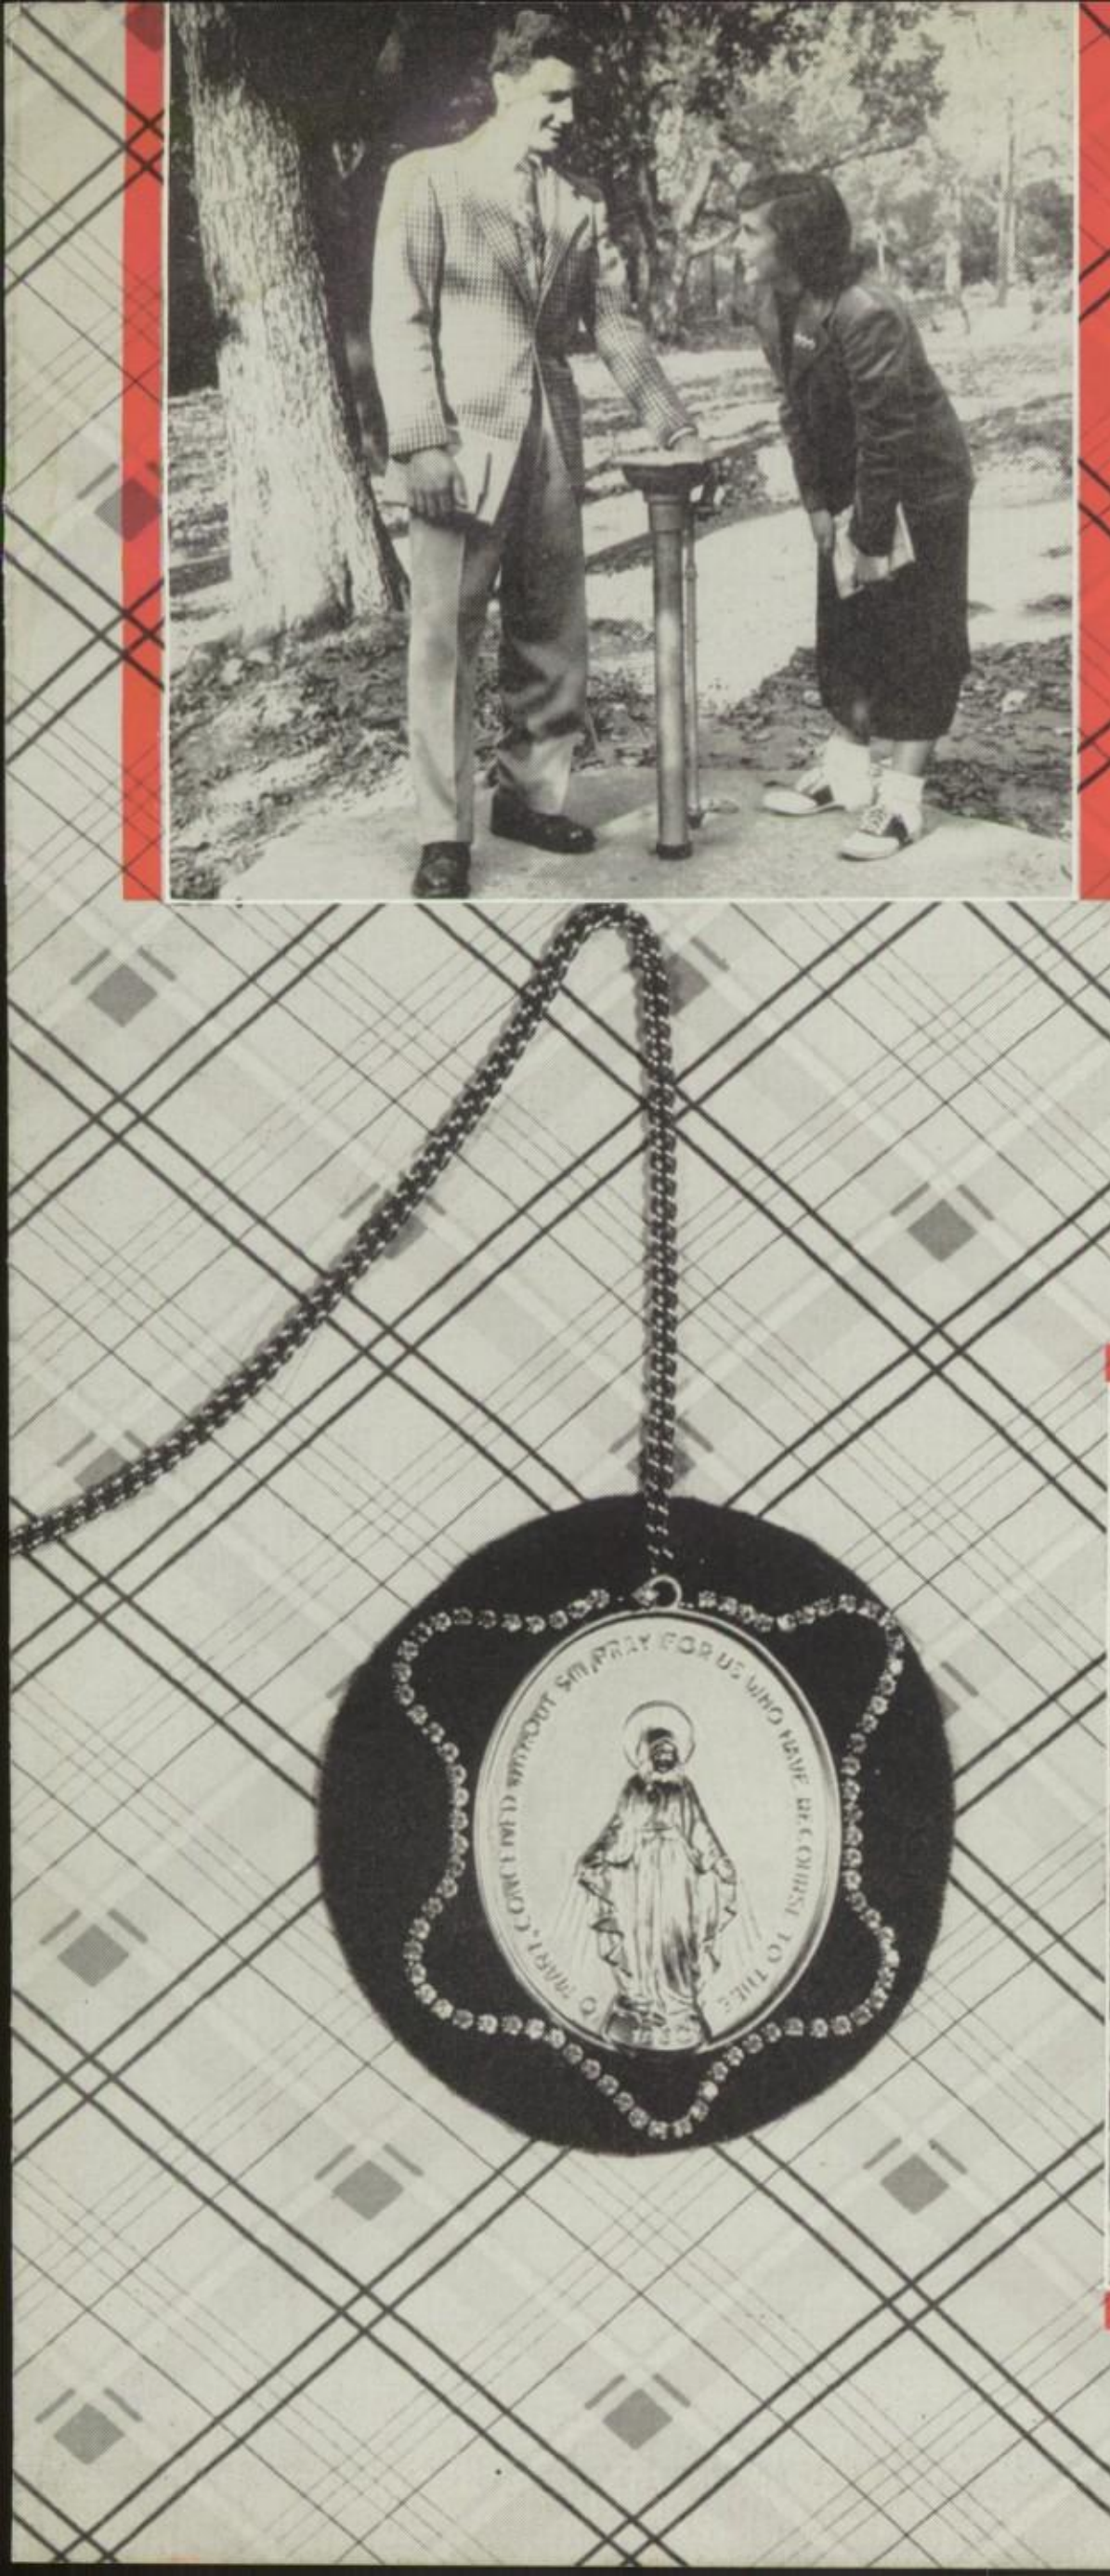
Passports to SEVENTEEN

are crew cuts and bobby-sox. So fourteen and nineteen, and all you in-beteens, Centralma's for you.

Spotting you at dances, parties, the games, jam sessions, and assemblies, was like scouting for four-leaf clovers in the moonlight. Struggling with you through themes, problems, translations, and quizzes made us come dragging in under the deadlines. But "we liked it." Every moment of it.

So curl up in your favorite nook this wonderful month of roses. Watch yourself as you exchange bobby-sox and saddle shoes for argyles and white bucks.

As you read, remember the Class of '52. We are at the feet of our "Mother Beloved" where our wheels of fortune have just begun to spin. Remember us to her that we may never lose our spiritual vigor but always remain in her eyes . . . SEVENTEEN.



O MARY, CONCEIVED WITHOUT SIN, PRAY FOR US WHO HAVE RECOURSE TO THEE

designed with us in mind

The transition from stately mansion to hall of learning was more than a case of three easy lessons. When the pastor of St. Paul Parish bought the Luden mansion in 1939, he took the first of many steps forward. Realizing the possibilities of the "Bon Air" estate not only for his own parish, but for all the Catholic youth of Reading, he made the purchase and a new Catholic Alma Mater was on its way.

The great rooms lent themselves admirably to conversion, lending an old world charm to the practical up-to-date idea of modern education.

Following the dictates of supply and demand, the new insti-

dear old Central High tution soon found itself in need of more space and equipment. Plans were formulated, and in both 1941 and 1945 new sections were annexed. Central continued to grow. Originally "christened" the Monsignor Bornemann Memorial, the school has become more popularly known as Central Catholic High.

A little bit o' Central

Reverend John N. Wachter

If Central has helped us to handle that explosive piece of dynamite called growing up, if it has changed our liabilities to golden assets, we are indebted to the Pastor of St. Paul Parish. The financial backing supplied by Father Wachter and his parishioners did somersaults to keep our Alma Mater in the running.

Now that we are graduating—confident, mature, and embarked—may we express our gratitude for the "secret cargo" that made our trip through Central a successful one.

He likes La Magnita cigars. He likes chicken, too—but not chicken a la king! Art and music figure in his cultural tastes.

Now and then the co-founder and principal of Central Catholic High School takes a busman's holiday. Serving on examining committees, assisting at dedications, broadcasting on the radio—all play a part on the extra-curricular agenda of a very busy man, Reverend Charles Allwein.

This year Father served as vice-chairman on the Committee of the Middle States Association evaluating Harrisburg Catholic High School. He later filled the post of chairman on a committee appraising the scholastic efforts of Linden Hall, Lititz, Pennsylvania.

Since its foundation twelve years ago, Central has grown considerably in size, enrollment, and prestige. To the man responsible for that expansion, we say: "Seventeen salutes you, Father Allwein!"

on the book beat

Dearie! do you remember when we put aside our bubble-gum and choo-choo trains and settled down to the grim reality of Central's book routine? From the very first class we caught the general idea that a knowledge of valences, vertebrae, and volts would mean more in the long run than kidding, 'kibitzing' and cutting up.

Most of us realized that our tycooning days were just around the next corner. So with great intellectual gallops we covered the ground of an endless vocabulary and captured an elusive X Y Z.

But here is the heart of the matter. If we are graduating—adult, arrived, and assured—it is because Our Lady helped us all the way. Without her Son's help, her own reassuring smile, and gentle prods of an interested faculty, Seventeen never could have done it.

Third year religion students J. Honan and R. Harris find that the school library holds the key to good reading through Catholic literature.

Increased devotion through a better understanding of the Mass is the object of would-be theologians M. Flemming, J. Gibney, A. Foley, and L. Borst.

FRESHMEN

Front Row: W. Bennethum, F. Burns, J. Cleary, P. Barbera, R. Corrigan, J. Conrad, D. Breneiser, W. Billinger, J. Bonk, J. Didyoung, J. Davies. Middle Row: F. Cichowicz, C. Daly, K. Aschenbrenner, C. Dease, P. Cacesse, T. Borst, S. Concordia, D. Dauber, G. Civita, H. Derby, R. Berardinelli, M. Dackweiler, J. Anderson. Top Row: J. Butzer, J. Adams, J. Bilger, B. Ambrose, T. Dooley, J. Curtin, R. Cotellese, R. Dreibelbis, M. Conlon, J. Christel, J. Conway, J. Carabello, H. Bausman.

Forty-five freshmen try to get into the act as G. Templin struggles valiantly to defend the faith.

This we believe . . .

True or false? Trees have trunks. Elephants have trunks. Therefore, elephants are trees. A false generalization—a correction—and our house of faith once more stood upon the rock.

Studies in the life of Christ, Church history, the Divine and Ecclesiastical precepts, and apologetics will go a long way to help us understand, defend, and propagate the Faith.

The first chapter of Genesis illustrated for the benefit of seniors J. Kopicki, M. Howard, J. Gallagher, C. Denunzio, R. Dombroski, and D. McCarthy.

Is this a fix? Grins registered by freshmen W. Hallman, M. Smith, and J. Stieff give a new twist to algebra classes.

Numbers racket

Mr. X, the unknown, is still at large! He gave us the slip, though we chased him with slide rules, protractors, compasses, T squares.

"Find X!" With dull pencils we sign the job over to you. You'll never regret the search. Look what it did for us. Ours is a mathematician's mind, ready for mechanics, engineering, science and 'what have you.'

"O Solid, where is thy sting!" With models to illustrate geometric solids in space, F. Nemeth, J. Smith, P. Gibney, and M. Brady pave the last of math's royal roads.

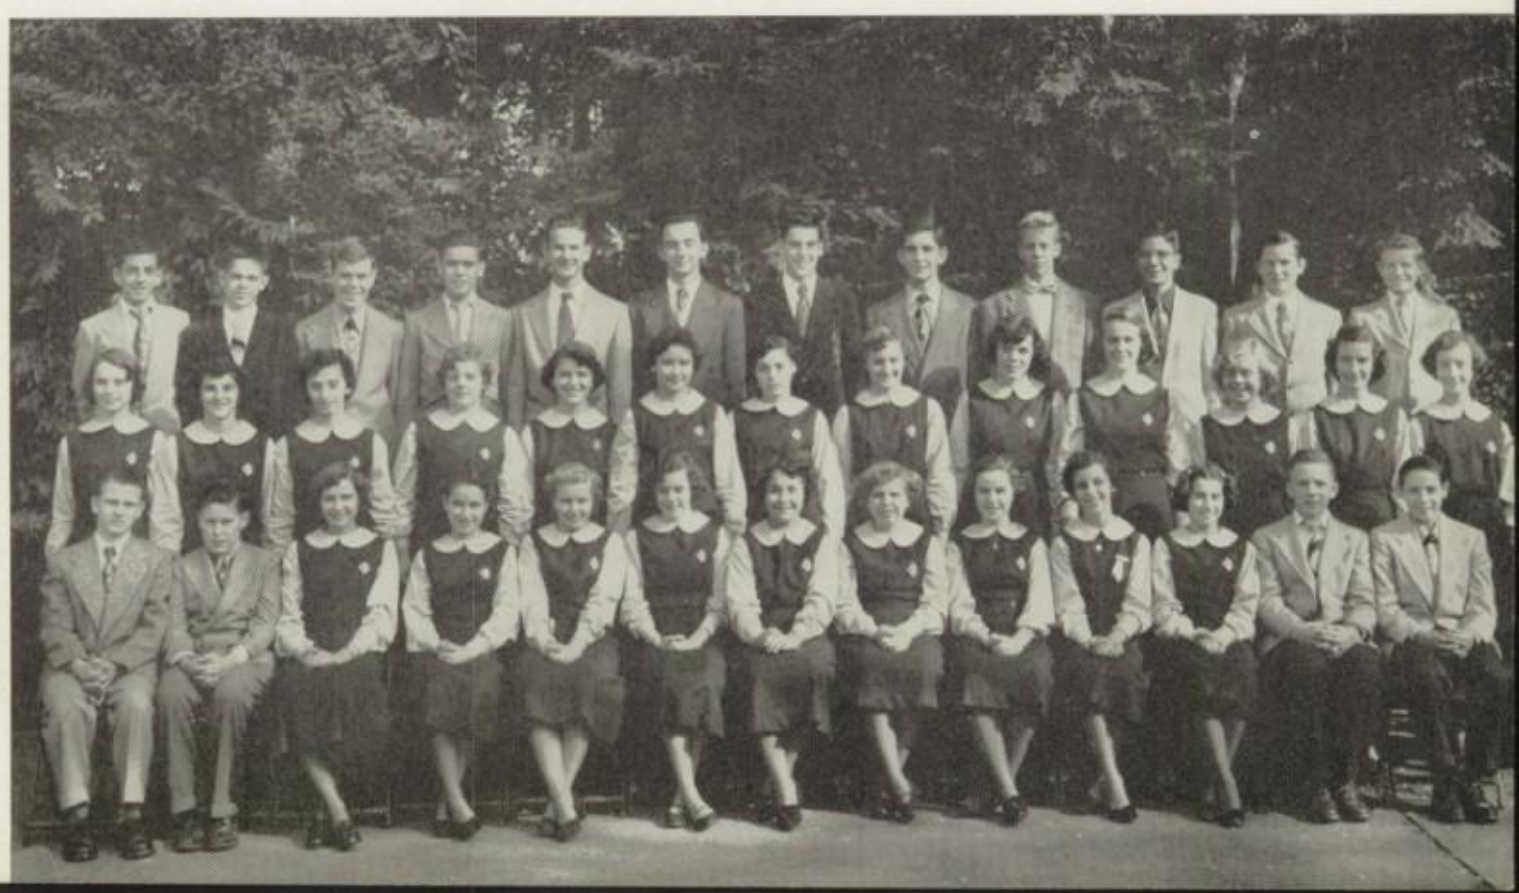
R. Albrecht posts the day's bill of fare on the cafeteria bulletin board as poster painters D. Hoyer, M. Becker, and C. Flemming ply their art.

The mural waits while K. Borgiet and R. Aschenbrenner get a charge out of the smudge on E. Humma's face. It's T. Lucas to the rescue!

Brushing up

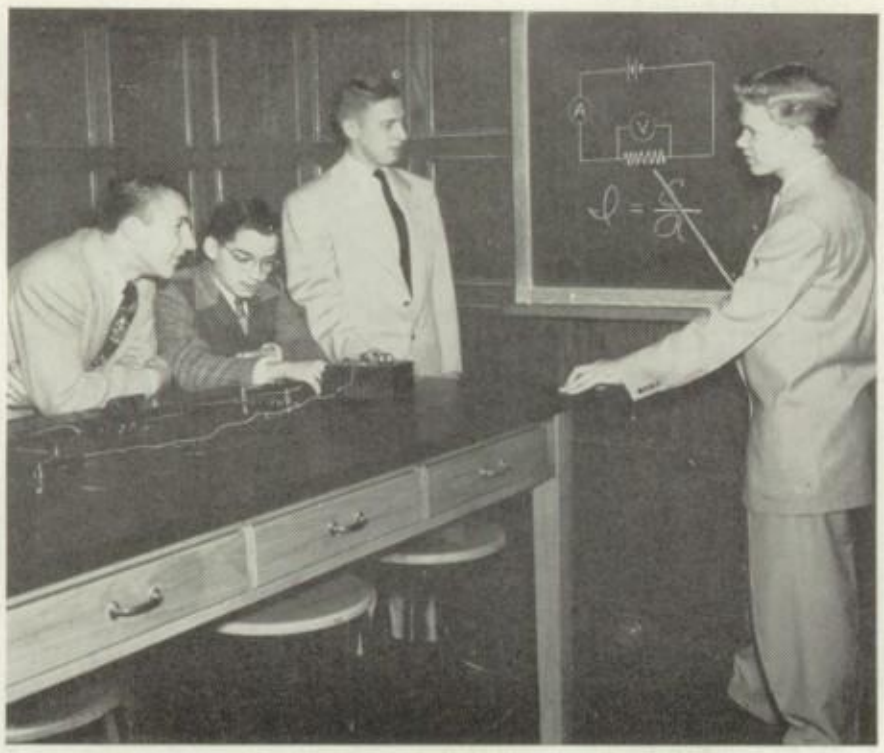
The parade of colors was on. In pastels, water colors, and opaques we depicted everything from Cinderella to the Litany of the Saints. Yes, it was the rainbow at our fingertips.

As a preparation for commercial art, we dwelt extensively on printing, poster design, fashion illustration, and color harmony.



FRESHMEN

Front Row: W. Lozinski, M. Matus, I. Pawlowski, C. Popp, M. Seyfert, M. Smith, M. A. Rotundo, P. Mulligan, A. Rearden, D. Schnable, E. Noble, C. O'Brien, T. McDevitt. Middle Row: B. McKeone, T. Morganti, A. Pizzutelli, J. Reber, F. Richards, T. Romanovic, M. Smith, M. A. Rocktashel, M. E. Smith, V. Reed, M. Purcell, C. Noll, E. Neiman. Top Row: F. Mascirelli, D. Linette, B. Post, L. Norman, F. Lorah, J. Litwin, J. Nawa, B. Pouleson, R. Moyer, J. McGoey, J. Melcher, J. Levisky.



R. Masley shows his fellow "Ben Franklins" F. Glass, R. Heine, and W. Orth how much juice it takes to make a voltmeter hop.

P. Endter checks his pattern of 60° T-Joint before submitting it to Sister's scrutiny.

The general idea

Actually, it's "know how." Know how to draw a revolved section of a crank? Know what a universal joint is? Know where to use an oscillator?

Films, batteries, motors, drawing boards were the trusty tools that taught us the science of juice, the assembly of a jeep, the construction of a blue print.

Front Row: R. Salvatore, R. Wright, J. Sabatucci, V. Zimmerman, L. Uczynski, G. Templin, C. Spiegel, J. Spencer, R. Suglia, G. Weiss, J. Struble, R. Tessier, M. Sosh. Middle Row: P. Sheehan, J. Watycha, D. Straka, N. Vath, G. Weber, M. Yahner, J. Stieff, D. Wink, P. Straka, H. Stumhofer, F. Toye. Top Row: E. Senkowski, F. Swienkowski, F. Urban, J. Powers, G. Smith, J. Stefanik, D. Waligurski, E. Sanford, T. Seaman, P. Slapikas.

A hole in one! Mrs. F. Wentzel, representative from the Singer Sewing Machine Company, demonstrates the new magic button-hole maker. In boot-training for home-making are seniors B. Kuzio, D. Quimby, J. Merkel, C. Latshaw, R. Roth.

With the art of good salesmanship R. Siegle puts the pressure on S. Prentice.

Topsy-turvy Home Ec class put legs in armholes, used salt for sugar, sewed seams without thread. Practical application was hectic in those days.

But Sister Casimir extricated us from 'gooey' batter and yards of cloth till we emerged dietitians and seamstresses that even mother can be proud of.

A Ford V-8 engine is the victim here as puzzled mechanics R. Kemp, P. Zimmerman, B. Kreisher, J. Yetzer, F. Jablonski, J. Kruszewski, C. Nuding, J. Jablonski, and D. Kase perform an autopsy to see what made it tick.

"Ja, it would be gut to see the old country again, nicht wahr?" Well, C. Franckowiak, W. Hoffman, and M. Flemming can dream, can't they?

Over there . . .

Like a trip through the bill-boarded countryside, the study of languages sent us pell-mell into the strange beauties that enhance the customs, music, and lore of our foreign friends. German, Spanish, French, Latin is the mortar upon which we build unending stairways to a peaceful democratic world.

D. Sobczak, R. Vallish, and A. Hornak find reading in the Latin Missal a bit easier than the usual tricky translations of Virgil and Ovid. G. Kilker fights the fog!

Them days are gone . . .

In four short years we burrowed our way out of Neanderthal caves, stood before Egyptian pyramids, and joined battle with the Crusaders against the Turks. This Modern Age gave us a complete picture of the world's luring secrets and its shining truths. So much history—shaped in a thousand years by man—made our heads hum.

Lit 'n' lingo

Participles dangled, modifiers were misplaced. Our job—correct them! We conjugated verbs, parsed nouns, and recited poems, till we had nightmares of monster gerunds chasing James Whitcomb Riley and horned fragments colliding with Charles Dickens.

strictly for fun

Here's the part of SEVENTEEN that was strictly for fun. Here are the dances, doggie roasts, games, publications, proms, and all the other jig-saw pieces that made up this many-sided picture of the Queen's Teens.

We're sharing with you the frenzy before every deadline, the tension of every sports event, the excitement and "nerves" of every prom.

And it's all focused on you. Remember? You watched a marching band step out in tricky routines; you exhausted yourself and partner in a Mexican Hat Dance; you munched those countless hot-dogs during that half-time lull; and you are the one who will never forget that certain Junior Prom.

So here it is, all on the next few pages—the special phase of SEVENTEEN that was "strictly for fun" and for you!

Power in ribbons

Swinging into the gym to the beat of the "Honor Band March", 13 council members and 32 representatives assumed the duties of their respective offices. These elected students strive to create a closer cooperation among the students themselves, and between the faculty and students.

Regular Monday council meetings were sparked by lively discussions of pet peeves and possible projects proposed through the student suggestion box.

During a lull in their duties as corridor cops, the members of the House exercised their veto power on a council-proposed student court. A President R. Noll sparks a regular Tuesday meeting with a casual witticism. Representatives are: M. E. Daly, B. Henrich, M. Kane, J. Borst, D. Schnable, W. Kase, T. McDonald, R. Yeager, V. LaFata, J. Stevenson, J. Manuszak, C. Flemming, G. Kugler, J. Essig.

Taking their oath of allegiance are Central's council members: F. Maslar, R. Falin, E. DelCollo, D. Tobin, P. Geiger, G. Kane, T. Sullivan, J. Larkin.

These and a number of other related activities kept the beribboned members of the Student Association stepping.

Inking for you

We were once a fun-loving crew. Life was sweet. Our first Centralma meeting found youth on the threshold of success with ideas a dime a dozen.

Gradually, the dazzle-dust wore off, and so—to the salt mines. Tables, desks, chairs were crowded with everything from cast-off layouts to wallpaper ("back-ground" to you). Necessity—and we took to the floor of Room 102. Inspiration met us here.

Many thanks are due to Sisters Roselda, Rosana, and Clare for a splendid job of handling Centralma's financial situation.

Yearbook artists R. Albrecht and C. Flemming cast the critical eye on their posters for the Blue Army pix.

S. Wertz bears up while M. E. Gantert teases her about the "fourth time she's done that sheet."

The bright spot of the year was the day of Valentines—we each happily munched two candy hearts apiece.

The Closet was the harbor of the good ship Centralma. In it were thrown old yearbooks, old layouts, old editors.

Thus we toiled, with the hope that the results would please you. So, for better or for worse, this is your Centralma.

A vote of gratitude for the fine cooperation and spirit of Fathers Allwein and Leichner, and our comrade publication Hillside Echoes, who made available to us valuable information and needed pictures.

The big story

Through the efforts of the Hillside Echoes' staff, journalism at Central took a giant step forward during the past year. The "Little Echo," a result of the combined talents of staff members, was introduced to the students during a lull between major editions.

Two to one, K. Greytok and E. Heckman aren't really that happy over the task of proof-reading.

A newspaper-woman's job is never done! J. Rearden and R. Seigle wield the trusty "blue pencil" again.

Censored by the editor! D. McKeone and F. Faust can rake in the shekels, but we want no government trouble, thank you.

This 4" x 7" bulletin, which first appeared on November 12 in mimeographed copy, graduated to "contact" print in the following issue.

The finished product! R. Schleifenheimer and T. Schwegeman distribute another issue of "Hillside Echoes" to waiting students.

R. Noll and T. Reedy receive "yet another galley" from M. Sarvas before dashing off to the printer.

Seventy travelling troubadours from St. Joseph College entertained an appreciative student body on March 21. Their repertoire ranged from classical to whimsy.

Fourteen girls form the Chorus that has entertained at fetes this year. Christmas carols like "Silent Night," "Hark the Herald Angels Sing," and popular tunes such as "Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer," they harmonized at the Yuletide Assembly.

But hours of practice went into the preparation for the Spring Musicale. Included in the repertoire were: Schubert's "Ave Maria," "Charmaine," "Italian Street Song," "Alouette," "Bicycle Built for Two," and some Romberg selections.

Front Row: M. Henrich, M. Flemming, V. Zimmerman, K. Miller, B. Worrall, C. Flemming, R. Holzapfel, L. Loeper, E. Flemming, J. Stover, T. Poeringer, J. Abeln. Back Row: Mr. Lester Yeager, M. Templin, J. Hernandez, M. E. Flemming, A. Foley, M. Nangle, J. Sanders, A. Roth, J. Succk, M. Dease, M. Schuler, B. Gross, E. Kahlert.

Adding color to Central football games are baton twirlers: M. Kellagher, M. A. Chanton, S. Gantert, M. Liptak, and F. Masler.

Batons and baritones

Four alumni, C. Cinelli, G. Prendergast, J. Winterhalter, and M. Reddinton, give P. Gibilisco, J. Daly, L. Pietruzynski, W. Hoffman, and B. Hofmann pointers on college life at St. Joseph College.

Leading the band is Central's snappy color guard: Capt. J. Waninger, G. Hipp, M. Flemming, S. Wertz, A. M. Bauer, and M. Templin.

Call to colors

It's "we've got the pep, we've got the steam," for cheerleaders Capt. D. Hoyer, P. Fierro, R. Crocona, P. Fordyce, Moderator Miss V. Illuzzi, N. Davidheiser, I. Leach, and P. Didyoung.

Following tradition, March 17 called for a tribute to the sons of Erin. A playlet originated by Maria Hughes was presented in the auditorium by representatives of senior, junior, sophomore, and freshman groups.

R. Schwartz adds a bit of green with an Irish jig. Accompanist is J. Mason.

Joining hands in a good-will gesture before Central's own "Lady Liberty," (C. Donaldson) are M. Petro, M. Becker, K. Greytok, A. M. Hornak and R. Schwartz.

United we sing

On Friday, October 26, Robert Peffley, Sr. 3, opened the United Nations Assembly with an explanation of the Holy Father's Peace Plan. Flags of the U. N. member countries graced the stage while five different nations sang representative folk songs. German Frauleins warbled "Die Lorelei;" Spanish senoritas sang "El Trebole;" French mademoiselles presented "Le Concert Avec les Anges;" Polish dziewczynka stamped to the beat of the Polish National Anthem; while the merry Slovak group chanted "Toncuj, Toncuj." Watching over the gay assembly in a true spirit of democracy was America's own "Lady Liberty."

Best foot forward

From the time we floundered into the "step! one-two, one-two" stage of Wednesday night dances, to the last dip of that "Loveliest Night of the Year," dancing as a pastime was popular among our "seventeen" set.

Classes for the freshmen under the guidance of Mrs. Kitzmiller, expert dancing instructor, were sponsored by the Mothers' Club. These gatherings presented our first real opportunity to meet each other. Friday night dances were the testing ground. It was here that our two left feet gradually developed into one left and one right respectively.

So far, so good. V. Zimmerman and R. Wright demonstrate the proper technique during the freshman dancing class.

As Mrs. Kitzmiller instructs S. Kane and L. Norman in the more sedate method of the dance, C. Daly and E. Senkowski execute some snappy Charleston steps.

Came our last year and we swung and shuffled to the Mexican Hat Dance with visions of "Senior Proms" dancing in our heads. With the close of that "Night of Nights," June 6, we were prepared for our final step—graduation.

At Friday night dances it was Jack Chiarelli's orchestra.

At nine o'clock the guys were shy, at ten, they began to get the swing of things, and by eleven they hated the evening to end!

Mellow trombones and a solid sax made for smooth dancing.

Crowned King and Queen of the prom, R. Bennett and M. A. Cavello smile graciously for their subjects.

One frosty night

January 26 saw the Ballroom of the Berkshire Hotel transformed into a Winter Wonderland. Young hearts cakewalked to the moon on wings of silk and Jack Kenny's music. Highlighting the evening was the Grand March led by King Roger Bennett and Queen Marianne Cavallo. This Junior Prom, the first to be held in the downtown hotel, was acclaimed a huge success.

Intermission finds young couples flocking to the soda fountain.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Hydock, Mr. and Mrs. Jerome La Manna, Mr. and Mrs. George Hoyer, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Morrow, Dr. and Mrs. Edward Stoebenau chaperoned the festivities.

That night all the world was Seventeen.

"After the Ball was over:" R. Gleixner, R. Oswald, M. Glaser, R. Harris, L. Milligan, P. Mills, J. Wiswesser, J. Roche, J. McQuillen, and R. Mountcastle head for the cloak room.

The gang's all here

Central's skating stars had a chance to show their speed on Easter Tuesday night at Fairground Skateland. Substituting wheels for the usual shoe leather proved to be a very sore replacement for many students. Party games, couples (simple and advanced), trios, and "all skates" rounded out the evening.

"Oh, my achin' feet!" Centralma staff cries for mercy between the Villanova conferences.

At the Junior doggie roast a toast is offered with Coca Cola.

"Rare, medium, or well-done?" Three measly hot dogs to feed that anxious mob?

This was seventeen's sports world—a round of football helmets, freeze plays, hurdles, and base hits. We yelled, clapped, shrieked, whistled, and urged our teams to give it the old college try.

Munching hot dogs, we begged a mud-spattered eleven for just one more touchdown. Prayers and promises stormed heaven during the tense hush of a free throw that could win or lose a crucial game. All else was forgotten when panting half-milers struggled those last few feet to the tape and first place. And following the great American tradition, we raised the cry of "Throw the bum out!" in a diamond dual.

This was the part of us that was sportsmanship. By turns, we assumed the role of proud victor and gracious loser. But if we lost, we played and cheered harder the next time. There was always a tomorrow; and (may we quote?) "You can't keep a good man down" . . . particularly when he's seventeen.

CENTRAL

Grueling practice sessions together with expert coaching proved to be a successful formula in compiling an enviable record of wins and losses for our Hill Road Gridders, who registered their best performance in several seasons. With his brother Andy, Head Coach Steve Hydock molded aggressive linemen and hard-running backs out of the thirty-one huskies who reported. Workouts began as early as August 18.

Although fifteen Seniors bid farewell to the high school pigskin at the end of this season, many Sophomores and Juniors received valuable experience as starters and substitutes.

Displaying their winning ability under the able direction of Coach Joe Buckley, the largest freshman squad in the school's history also promises a strong team in the future.

So, long live the pigskin! A bright football career for Central is in the offing.

Central Catholic 20 York Catholic 0

With York playing host, Central ushered in the current campaign, registering a decisive 20-0 victory. The Fighting Irish couldn't gain a foothold as three grueling weeks of pre-season practice paid dividends to the Hydockmen.

First and ten

Central Catholic 6 Lancaster 7

Fumbles at crucial periods crushed the Cards' chances for a clean slate as a well-coordinated Lebanon team eked out a 7-6 decision. "Digger" Geiger's 27-yard jaunt set the scene for Bill Orth, who hit off tackle for the Hillroader's lone tally.

Central Catholic 25 Mount Carmel Catholic 7

Avenging last year's defeat, the high-flying Redbirds stunned Mt. Carmel on a quick opener with Geiger romping 59 yards for a touchdown. "Butch" Sullivan and "Wild Bill" Orth each scored with Geiger hitting paydirt again to spearhead the attack with triple T.D.'s.

Central Catholic 38 Pottsville Catholic 7

The High Flying Cards gathered their belongings and traveled to Pottsville Catholic, resuming grid relations after a four-year lapse. Scoring almost at will, Central romped over the hapless Pottsville combine to the tune of 38-7. Tom Sullivan paved the way contributing 12 points.

Coaches Steve and Andy Hydock discuss pre-game strategy.

Pete

Pete Adams dives for fumble during Pottsville game.

Central Catholic 12 St. Matthews 25

The Hydockmen failed to shatter the Mirrors' clever single wing ground attack. "Dutch" Chelius, Central's capable field general, scored two 6-pointers in the last period to temper their defeat.

Central Catholic 7 Shenandoah Catholic 6

Shenandoah's Mighty Atoms were unable to stop our fleet backs and hard-charging line. Don Chelius connected with a 15-yard heave to Pete Adams who scored standing up. Tom Sullivan kicked the extra point which proved to be the margin of victory.

Central Catholic 13 Panther Valley 19

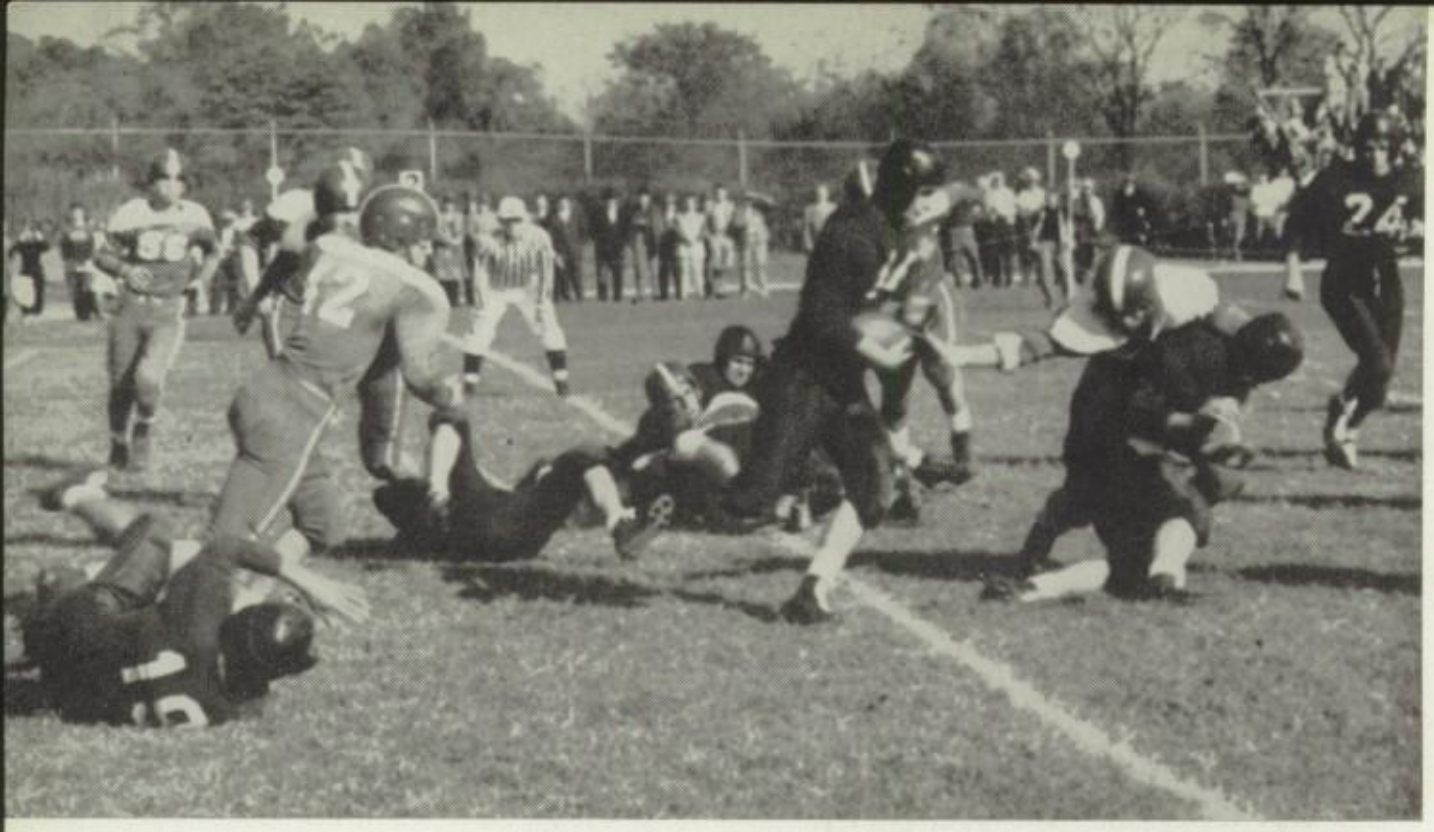
Rain, mud, and the clock proved too much for the Cards. Central's 4th quarter sprint was not enough to overcome the Panthers' 6-point lead.

"Wild Bill" Orth is hit hard after making a sizeable gain against St. Patrick of Norristown.

P. Geiger, Central's plunging fullback, takes hand-off from D. Chelius and plows into a solid wall at scrimmage.



Effective blocking paves the way for unidentified Conshohocken player.

Central Catholic 26 Salesianum 6

Rugged line play was largely responsible for the rout of the Sallies who had previously won 13 consecutive games. Pouring through gaping holes made by the linemen, each of Central's backs hit paydirt.

Central Catholic 22 St. Patrick 0

Closing a brilliant season victoriously, the Cards shut out a heavier St. Pat's team before a huge homecoming day crowd at the St. Lawrence Stadium. Brilliant defensive play sparked this victory which closed the books on a creditable 6-3 showing for the season.

Bounds and rebounds

Central Catholic 48 Lancaster Catholic 36

Opening the basketball season at the spacious Lancaster Armory, Coach Joe Schaaf's proteges edged past the Crusaders of Lancaster Catholic 48-36. After a bad first quarter Central snapped out of it, and brought home with them win number one.

Central Catholic 51 Southeast Catholic 56

The rampaging Pirates of Southeast caught fire in the waning minutes of the fourth quarter to put the game on ice with a five point spree. The tall Philadelphia City League opponents had a battle on their hands as the Cards played excellent ball with Jim Larkin collecting 15 points.

Central Catholic 47 Coatesville 48

A frenzied crowd was witness to a heartbreaking defeat handed to the Cardinals by the Red Devils of Coatesville. The regulation game ended in a 45-45 deadlock and went into an extra period. With less than a minute to go, Brown sank a foul shot for Coatesville which decided the game.

E. Jablonski performs fancy ballet in hook-up with Brown Prep player. B. Falin rushes to the rescue.

Central Catholic 52 Lebanon 53

In their second away game of the season, Central dropped a hair-line 53-52 decision to Lebanon High's Cedars. The Cards just couldn't get rolling against the Central Penn League defending champions.

Central Catholic 72 Reading Catholic 39

In this year's renewal of the battle for the legendary City Catholic Championship, the Hill Road men showed their supremacy over the South Fifth Street hoopsters. Central's bench squad gave evidence of possibilities by playing from the second period onward.

Central Catholic 41 Reading High 36

The long-awaited night arrived. Central found itself putting speed and endurance against Reading High for the first time in history. By pressing from the tap-off the Cards managed to hold the Red Knights to 36 points and "racked up" 41 themselves.

Central Catholic 50 York Catholic 46

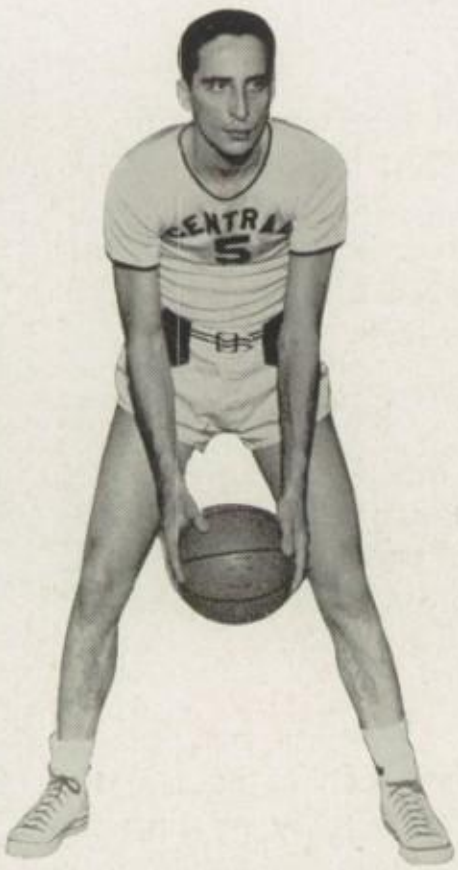
The Fighting Irish of York threw a mad scare into the Cardinal camp until the fourth quarter when the Schaafmen finally forged ahead, beating the Yorkmen 50-46. Laverne Godfrey starred for the opposition while Johnny Schiavo collected 19 points for Central.



CAPTAIN JIM LARKIN
Center

J. Connolly, J. Schiavo, and R. Falin team up to snare rebound from Reading High's backboard.

Central Catholic 50 Malvern Prep 55

A potential win streak was smashed as Malvern whipped Central, 55-50. The prepsters took an early five point lead and never relinquished it, even during the Card's late fourth quarter rally.

Central Catholic 43 West Catholic 52

After a see-saw battle the Burrs put the game on ice in the ebbing minutes of the last quarter by bombarding the hoops for six straight points. Jim Connelly played an excellent game for the Cards and brought home the scoring honors with 15 points.

Central Catholic 61 St. Matthew's 42

The Hillroaders got back into the win column by rolling over the Mirrors 61-42. The Suburban Catholic League hoopsters were no match for the Cards as Gerry Kane ran wild with 19 digits.

Central Catholic 57 Hazleton 60

The sparks flew as these two teams met but the East Penn Leaguers proved to be the better as they came out on top, 60-57. The clock ran out and cut short, by three points, a strong rally made by the Cards who were 10 points behind with three minutes to go.

Central Catholic 55 Stevens Trade 37

Playing one of their best games of the season the Cards pulled a big upset by knocking off the Stevens Trade quintet, 55-37. Wild Bill Orth lived up to his name as he poured 19 points through the hoop.

Central Catholic 49 Salesianum 35

Leading from the starting whistle, Central controlled both boards and gunned its way to a 49-35 victory over the Sallies. A second game scheduled later in the season had to be canceled due to the loss of the Sallie's home court to the Army Reserves.

Central Catholic 49 St. Matthew's 43

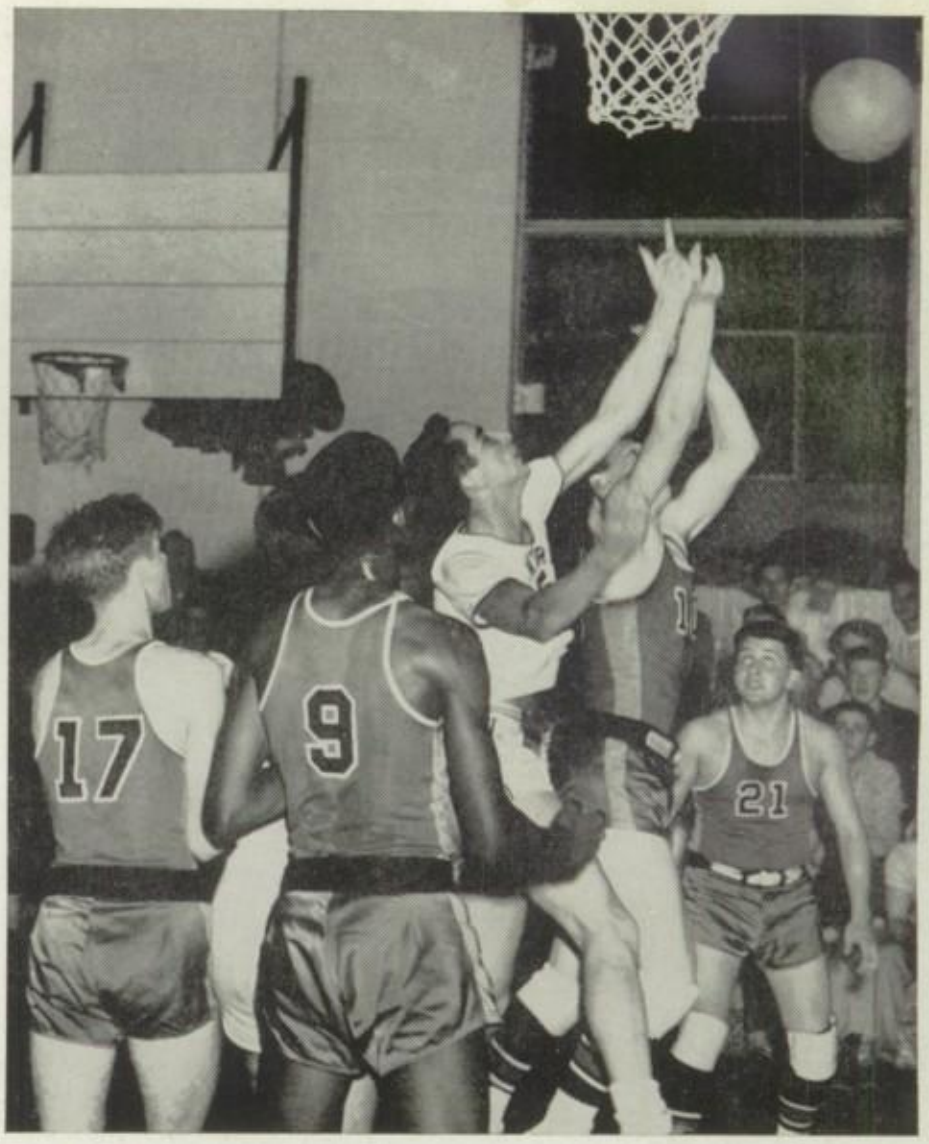
Three quick field goals in the ebbing moments of the last period enabled Central to gain a shaky 49-43 decision over the host squad. The Mirrors threw a scare into the Cardinal camp when they whittled a 19-point lead down to a tie in the hectic fourth quarter.



Coatesville Champs surround J. Larkin as he attempts a lay-up in the Hill Road Gym.

JOHNNY SCHIAVO
Guard

Central Catholic 41 Allentown 51

A strong Canary outfit that was seeking revenge for last year's defeat humbled the Cardinal lads, 51-41, at the spacious Northwest gym. Showing some of their best playing of the present season, the P.I.A.A. Class A Monarchs led from the opening whistle.

Central Catholic 59 Perkiomen Prep 57

Bouncing back from the Allentown defeat, the Hillroaders ripped the cords for 59 points to upset a heavily favored Perkiomen team. "Wilbur" Orth brought home the laurels for the Red and White as he hit for 18 points.

Central Catholic 79 Reading Catholic 39

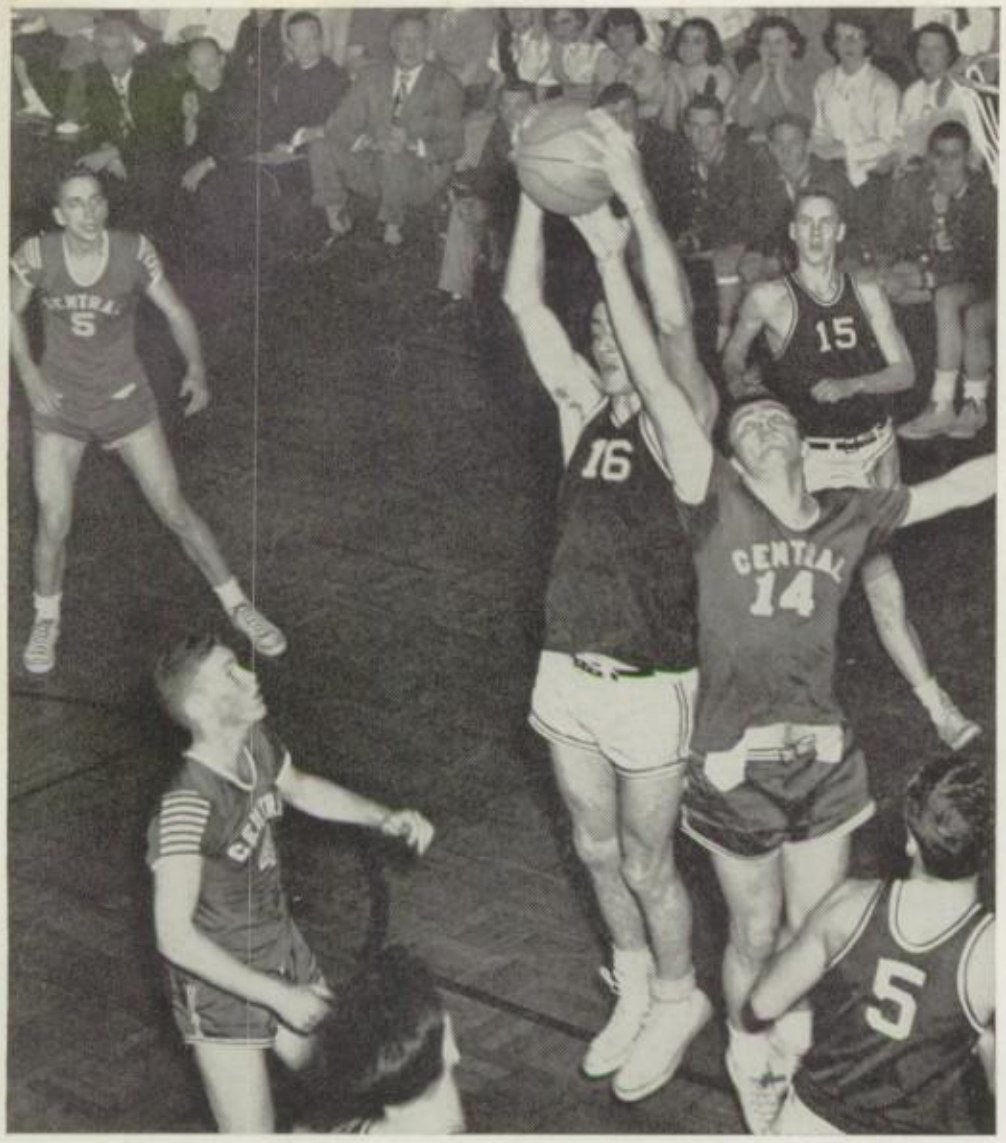
In their second meeting of the season the Cards again came out on top by routing the Eagles, 79-39. The Schaaf lads, led by Jim Larkin with 16 markers, hit from all angles for their highest point splurge of the present season.



Height pays off for West Catholic as Maxwell, giant Burr center, clears the boards.

Central Catholic 73 Lancaster Catholic 51

A very much improved Central quintet again pulled the trick as they rolled over the Lancaster Crusaders, 73-51. Johnny Schiavo and Jim Connelly combined for 34 points to lead the Cards to their eleventh win of the current campaign.

Central Catholic 46 York Catholic 56

The Red Birds started a long road trip by losing to the South Penn Catholic League Champs, 56-46. York failed to penetrate a tight zone defense but went wild on set shots.

Central Catholic 40 Coatesville 68

Once they started rolling, nothing could stop the Red Devils of Coatesville High as they raced to a decisive 68-40 victory. The Ches-Mont League titlists showed good form that should take them a long way in the P.I.A.A. state tournament.

BOB FALIN
Guard

Central Catholic 53 Brown Prep 66

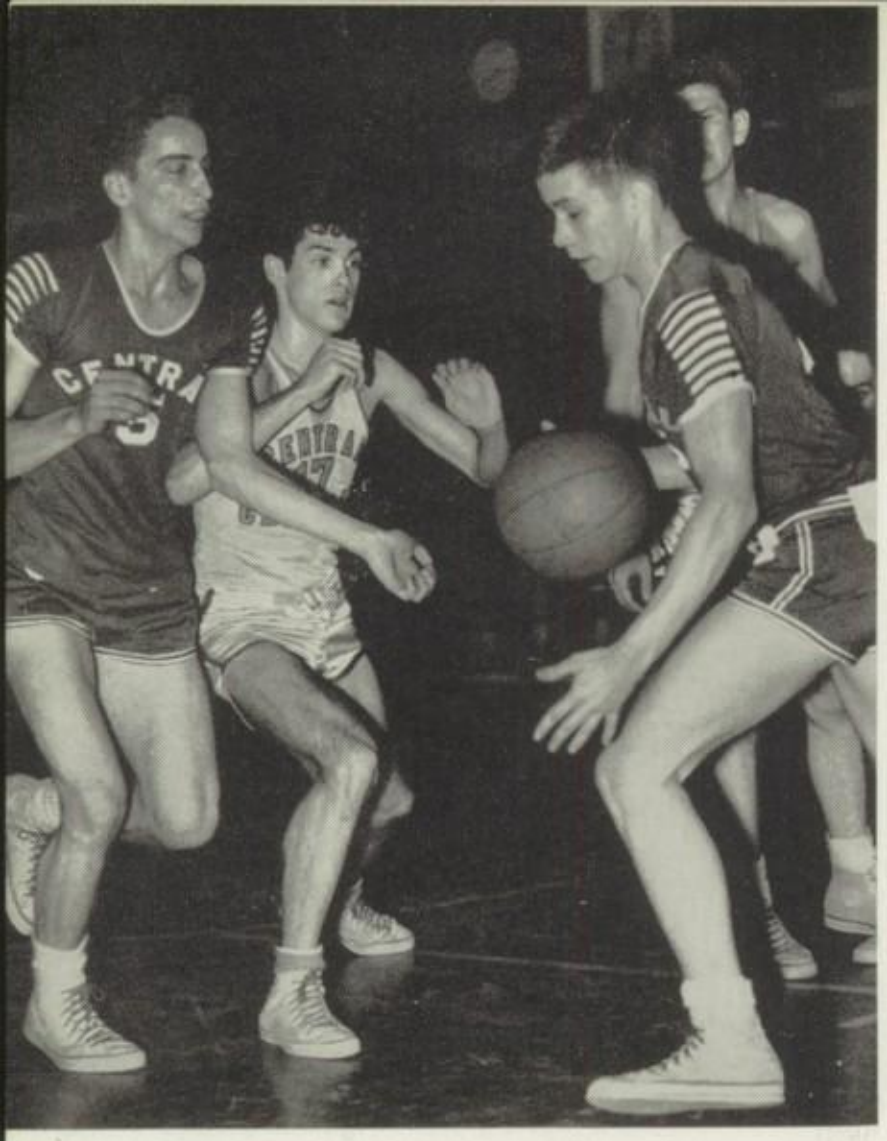
"Height isn't everything" was proven today as a very tall Brown Prep five found a red hot Central team on their hands. The lanky visitors had to use every trick in the book in order to take home a 66-53 victory.

Morrison of Reading Catholic and Central's Falin scramble for loose ball.



R. Falin and J. Larkin close in on ball during a tense moment in Allentown Catholic game.

BOB DONOHUE
Center

Central Catholic 61 Malvern Prep 55

Paced by Jim Connelly with 23 markers, the Schaafmen gained revenge for an early season defeat by beating Malvern Prep. With a last quarter spurt Central forged ahead and emerged victorious, 61-55.

Central Catholic 49 Stevens Trade 58

A hard fought battle resulted when the Red Men of Central ran smack into a rampaging, revenge seeking Stevens Trade array. Taking a lead early in the game the Lancaster County boys were never seriously threatened.

Central Catholic 43 Allentown 77

LeRoy Katz, a candidate for all-state honors, poured 21 points through the hoop to lead the Allentown High Canaries to a lop-sided 77-43 victory over Central. The East Penn Leaguers used a full court press to perfection and forced the Cards to shoot from the outside during most of the encounter.

Central Catholic 51 Lebanon Catholic 57

Despite Bob Falin's 14 point effort, the Cards lost out to a hard pushing Lebanon Catholic High team, 57-51. It was Lebanon's third win in eight starts against the Cards as athletic relations were resumed after a one-year lapse.

Shifting into second, W. Kase drives in for a lay-up against Jewish Community Center. B. Dreibelbis and C. Nuding, leading scorer, charge for tap-in.

Central Catholic 58 Hazleton 55

A pro-Central crowd went wild as freshman star Ed. Jablonski and senior guard Bob Falin ripped the cords for 16 points apiece to lead the Cardinals to a 58-55 victory over Hazleton High. In the final four seconds of play Johnny Shiavo seriously sprained his ankle and was lost for the rest of the season.

Central Catholic 56 Perkiomen Prep 60

Playing without the services of Capt. Jim Larkin and guard Johnny Schiavo, the revamped Cards fell before a much taller Perkiomen Prep team. Two Perkiomen lads, Behm and Young, Combined for 51 points to lead the Prepsters' attack.

Central Catholic 51 Allentown Catholic 62

In the traditional first round game of the P.C.I.A.A. playoffs, the Cards battled on even terms with the Vikings until midway in the final frame when Allentown surged ahead for good. Allentown's victory splurge was paced by Ludrop's 15 straight points in those final hectic moments. The fans were more than satisfied as the Schaaf lads gave a very good account of themselves by completely baffling the Vikings on offense and defense during the third quarter.

Swish!

Central Catholic's female hoopsters crashed well over the ranks of a winning season this year. They compiled a record of ten wins against two setbacks. After two early season losses to Pottstown and Wernersville, the Cardinalettes steamed down the stretch to a nine game winning streak. Two setbacks handed to the Robesonia High lassies snapped a five-year jinx held by them over Central.

Individual scoring honors went to the sharp-shooting sophomore, Phyllis Murphy, who ended the season with a total of 201 points in eleven games. Gertrude Ziemba and Capt. Maryellen Gantert also filled the hoops with 106 to 68 points respectively. The changing of Capt. Gantert to both defensive as well as offensive duty proved quite a boost to the Cardinal defense.

Shirley Wertz and Maryellen Gantert, Central's guards, close in to stop a Wernersville shot.

MARYELLEN GANTERT

With Jane Rearden and Phyllis Murphy looking on, Gertrude Ziemba tries in vain to get the rebound for a Central lay-up.

Phyllis Murphy charges in to pick up a loose ball as Jane Rearden and Gertrude Ziemba follow play.

Diamond dusters

T. Reedy is picked off at first by J. Connolly.

A familiar cry of "Play ball!", and in late March, baseball came out of mothballs. This year some forty odd candidates turned up at Coach McLaughlin's first call for spring practice. From this horde of hopefuls, 18 tossers made the grade and received their uniforms. Many "old-timers", including DePaul, Seaman, and Janiszewski, were missing, but the vacancies were filled without too much difficulty.

Coach and player alike look for a repeat performance of last year's undefeated season. It may turn out to be a hope well-founded; at the time this copy was being sent to print, Central's ball club had compiled a 5-0 record.

A teen to remember

The Feast of Our Lady of Lourdes saw the dawning of a new light in the eternal Kingdom and the extinction of a bright one on earth. Fatally injured in a head-on automobile collision in the vicinity of his native Pottstown, Donald Tobin, Junior 4, was snatched from the midst of his classmates but not from their memories or love. His pleasant manner and efficiency as Council Member and student will long be remembered by all with whom he worked and played. His was a great lesson, not "book learned": the Love of Our Lord and of Our Blessed Mother and the perfection of their Way.
